

WALKER WILCOX CLIENT WINS ASYLUM

Walker Wilcox recently assisted a 22 year old Kosovo woman in successfully obtaining asylum in the United States.

The client, a Kosovar immigrant, came to the United States due to her fears of persecution by the Kosovar government, its citizens, and her family on account of her membership in a particular social group of Kosovar gay woman.

As part of Walker Wilcox's association with the National Immigrant Justice Center (NIJC), Walker Wilcox assisted the client in preparing her asylum application and represented the young woman at her Immigration Hearing. The client was granted asylum based upon the physical and mental persecution she received while in Kosovo from her father and others in society due to her sexual orientation.
