OVERVIEW

Tony's primary practice areas include commercial litigation, bankruptcy and bankruptcy-related litigation. Tony has litigated complex bankruptcy, insurance and commercial disputes on behalf of domestic and foreign clients in state and federal courts throughout the country. Tony has also represented insurance companies in many complex bankruptcy cases, such asbestos-related bankruptcy cases under 11 U.S.C. § 524(g), other mass tort exposure and large and small cases where insurers' rights and interests were at stake. Tony has gained significant insight and experience in identifying and addressing issues and matters arising in bankruptcy cases that uniquely and specifically affect the insurance industry and insurer's various rights and obligations. Tony also has experience representing large, publicly traded entities, institutional and corporate creditors, creditor committees, chapter 11 Trustees and Liquidating Trustees.

Tony routinely represents a wide array of clients in state and federal courts on matters ranging from complex commercial disputes to general civil litigation, contract disputes, asset sales, and statutory liens, among others. He has represented clients in a diverse range of industries, including insurance, insurance brokerage, oil and gas, oil-field supply, engineering, industrial services, environmental services, pharmaceutical, animal health, international shipping, metals processing and recycling, construction, transportation, employment staffing and mortgage brokerage and service.
