OVERVIEW

Miles joined the Chicago office of Walker Wilcox Matousek LLP as an associate in 2019. Prior to joining the firm, Miles was a Legal Honors Intern at the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission's Division of Enforcement, and a Multi-State Tax Intern at Deloitte Tax LLP.

Miles received his J.D. from DePaul University in 2019, where he was actively involved in the Business & Commercial Law Journal as an editor and had his Note on a comparative analysis of the offshore asset tax regulations of the U.S., Mexico, and Argentina published. During his time at DePaul, Miles was an evening student and worked full-time as a compliance associate for a technology company's in-house counsel where he managed various contracts and insurance matters. He also studied international business abroad at the University of Havana in Cuba and ESEADE University Institute in Buenos Aires, Argentina.
